Welcome from Olives New Zealand

The Executive of Olives New Zealand extends a very warm welcome and invitation to you for Conference 2016, which will be held in Wellington in conjunction with the New Zealand Extra Virgin Olive Oil Awards Dinner on Saturday evening and an Organoleptic Assessment Seminar on the Sunday.

Conference 2016 has the same title as the Olives New Zealand Sustainable Farming Fund Project – “Increasing the Market Share for NZ EVOO”. There will be two main focuses – marketing initiatives and addressing grove productivity. Following on from a bumper harvest in most regions the challenges are the opportunities to grow markets for NZ EVOO and maintaining the level of production to service the evolving markets.

Marketing initiatives will be covered by Rob McGavin of Boundary Bend (how did they increase their market share for Australian EVOO to 80% and where to from here?) and Elena George from La Trobe University on the Mediterranean Diet (is this our secret weapon?).

Andrew Taylor will provide an overview and update on the Focus Grove Project, as well as the other key activities being undertaken by Olives New Zealand, on behalf of members. This will be complemented by a Panel discussion on addressing the biggest challenges facing olive groves in the Southern Hemisphere and will include not only focus grove participants but also our international guests from Australia and South Africa and New Zealand’s foremost olive pioneer – Mike Ponder.

Presentation of the NZ EVOO Awards Bronze, Silver and Gold will be done after the afternoon tea break of Conference leaving presentation of the major awards to the Awards Dinner, which will be held on Saturday evening at Parliament.

Reni Hildenbrand from South Africa, Head Judge for the 2016 NZ EVOO Awards, will run an Organoleptic Assessment Seminar on Sunday 16 October. This seminar will be two-fold. Firstly it will involve blind tasting and assessing of award winning oils from 2016 – what makes the difference between Bronze, Silver and Gold award winning oil, how could Bronze or Silver oil be lifted to Gold? Secondly it will involve tasting and assessing table olives – attendees are invited to bring along samples of their table olives for blind tasting and assessment. Finish time will be 4.30pm.

The excellent Presenters and our usual high standard of Exhibitors will extend your knowledge of the olive industry and give you invaluable information for moving forward in the industry.

Venue for Conference and the Seminar is the James Cook Grand Chancellor which is located in downtown Wellington. It is easily accessible from the motorway for those driving, with various car parking options available. For those flying in there are transfer options with airport shuttles and taxis. The conference rooms, catering and other facilities are of a high standard. Olives New Zealand has block booked a number of rooms at $160 per night, these must be reserved by 14th September.

Join us on the Friday evening for drinks in the bar to catch up with old friends and make some new ones. The Awards Dinner on the Saturday night at Parliament will be a smart affair with plenty of time for celebrations.

Our Presenters

Elena George

Elena George is a lecturer in the School of Allied Health at La Trobe University, Melbourne and is involved in research on the Mediterranean Diet. She also provides advice on nutrition, healthy eating and on the diseases that can be aided by the Mediterranean Diet. Elena will present compelling research results that will have you all become converts!

Rob McGavin

Rob McGavin and Paul Riordan established Boundary Bend Olives in 1997, with the first trees being planted in 1999. The company has five sites around Victoria; incorporating 6100 hectares of groves across three sites including 2 large processing plants, an office and harvester manufacturing facility in Mildura, a bottling and packaging facility in Lara and a marketing office in Melbourne.

Boundary Bend Olives produces from its own groves approximately 70% of Australia's olive oil and have about 80% of sales of Australian extra virgin olive oil. Boundary Bend Olives is a consistent award winner in prestigious international competitions. Rob is currently Boundary Bend's largest shareholder and CEO.

Andrew Taylor

Andrew has grown horticultural crops such as avocados, kiwifruit, pip fruit and summer fruit for more than 30 years. For more than 10 years Andrew has provided horticultural advice, harvesting and pruning contract services to the olive industry and now works full time with olives in much of the North Island. Andrew has been President of Olives New Zealand since 2009 and had previous to that been a member of the Executive.

Andrew will give an update on current Olives New Zealand key activities; Certification, Awards, Marketing, the Japan Export Pilot and the Sustainable Farming Fund Project.

Our Panel

Our international guests as follows.

Reni Hildenbrand – Hildenbrand Wine and Olive Estate, South Africa.

Reni owns the Hildenbrand award winning wine and olive estate in Wellington, South Africa. Reni has received recognition for her contribution to the South African industry with the award of Achiever of the Year in 2008 and 2013. Reni presents olive and olive oil tasting courses and is co-author of the book "Olives and Oil in South Africa". You can read more about Reni and her Hildenbrand Estate at <http://www.wine-estate-hildenbrand.co.za/>

Jim Rowntree – Longridge Olive Estate, South Australia

Jim is the Director of award winning Longridge Olives which is currently the largest Super High Density Grove in Australia. Longridge Olives is a 100% family farm owned by the Rowntree Family and is comprised of over 87,000 trees of specially selected varieties that suit the SHD model. These include Picual, Barnea, Arbequina, Arbosona, Koroneiki and FS17. You can read more about Longridge Olive Estate at <http://www.longridgeolives.com.au/>

Our Focus Grove participants as follows.

John Dunlop – Kakariki Olives, Nelson

John and Helen Dunlop own Kakariki Olives which is a 3,000 tree grove, located in Nelson. Established in 1999, with planting spread over a two year period, the grove consists of mainly Tuscan varieties, with a few Kalamata, Picual and Picholene trees. John has been involved with the Nelson branch of Olives New Zealand since joining in 2001 and is currently Chair and a member of the Olives New Zealand Executive. As well as being a grower, John installed an olive processing plant this year.

Craig Leaf-Wright – Leafyridge Olives, Wairarapa

Leafyridge Olives, situated near Masterton in the beautiful Wairarapa region of New Zealand, is owned and managed by the Leaf-Wright family. The grove was established in July 1999 with the 31 acres being progressively planted over the following 3 years. The olive grove has 3,650 trees comprising varieties from Italy (Frantoio, Leccino, Pendolino), France (Picholene) and Spain (Manzanillo, Picual). Craig is Chair of the Wairarapa Branch of Olives New Zealand as well as being Vice President and Treasurer for Olives New Zealand. Check out www.leafyridge.co.nz for more information.

Bob Marshall - Aquiferra, Hawke’s Bay

After moving from Auckland, Bob and his partner Shona bought a block of bare land on the edge of the Ngatarawa Triangle in Hawke’s Bay and in 2003 planted a grove of Leccino, Frantoio, Pendolino, Picual and Koroneiki olives. With only 650 trees they are a small producer, but successfully market their oil (‘Aquiferra’) at markets and to a number of restaurants. Bob has been Chair of the Hawke’s Bay Branch of Olives New Zealand since 2009 and is therefore a member of the Olives New Zealand Executive. Find out more here <http://www.aquiferra.co.nz/>

Mike Ponder – New Zealand Olive Pioneer, Marlborough

Mike Ponder and his wife established Ponder Estate Olive Grove in 1988 and are acknowledged as pioneers in the development of New Zealand’s olive oil industry. Ponder Estate comprised 5,000 trees on the outskirts of Blenheim and from 1995 was recognised internationally as producing some of the world’s best EVOOs.

Mike was (and still is) fanatical about quality, best practice and believed that New Zealand had a unique opportunity to produce olive oils of exceptional standards because of the cooler climates, small scale operations, modern cultivars and growing techniques. Mike was involved in the establishment of the New Zealand Olive Association, fore runner of Olives New Zealand, and served as President. He now combines a lifestyle of author, painter, olive and grape grower and cattle breeder.
